

How to Secure a Stallion.

Good horses were never so scarce on our farms, in our recollections, as now. The demand for them for the Cuban, Philippine and Boer wars has almost exhausted the supply. Many farmers themselves are short of horses, and will have to buy, and the demand for them in all kinds of business is increasing, and in towns and cities for pleasure purposes the demand continues. Europeans are over here also at all our large public sales buying them.

A bright farmer is always looking in advance to see what the market demands, what he can raise at the greatest profits. If his eyes are now open he must see clearly that in no field is there more hope for profit than in raising good horses. To do this he must use good stallions as well as good mares.

Many farmers do not feel able to buy or lease a good stallion, and hence none are secured, and scrub horses only are raised in that community. How much better it would be for a few progressive farmers to club together and buy, or if unable, lease some good stallion for one or more years and thus introduce good stock into their neighborhoods. We do not indorse the method of some stallioners of sending out a drummer to some rich community to form a stock company to sell a stallion for two or three times what he is worth. Many imported horses or horses from imported stock, have been thus sold at many times their value, and a great wrong perpetrated on the customers. We have good enough American horses of size, substance—style and action to suit any community. Let a committee be appointed to make a selection, to look the stallion over, to buy from whom they please, at the lowest prices at which one can be secured, or lease one in the same way, and not let some agent or drummer sell him to you at double what he is worth.

The time is now ripe for taking up this matter. The breeding season is at hand and action must be taken at once or a new lot of scrub colts will be brought into the world, wanted by no one, and not bringing enough to pay for the cost of raising. A good horse will always sell. There is money in raising such. The spring, right now, is the time to begin the good work.—Elizabethtown News.

Send your mares to Adair county. There are a number of excellent stallions here, and pasture is cheap.

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but when all other medicines failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, Lagrippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Paul's drug-store.

An Eastern editor says a man got into trouble by marrying two wives. A Western editor replied that many had done so by marrying one. A Northern editor says a great many of his companions found trouble by promising to marry one and not going any further. A Southern editor says a friend of his was bothered enough when he was simply found in company with another man's wife.—Ex.

Coughs tell you that there is something wrong in the throat or lungs. It is the cause, not the cough, that you must look after. Morley's Honey Pectoral searches out the cause of trouble, it heals the inflamed surfaces, stops the irritation, loosens the cough and cures the thoroughly. Sold by agent in every town.

There is much speculation about the complexion of the next State Senate.

Cause for Suspicion.

Why is it that women are so suspicious? Now, had Mother Eve been a smart woman and true to nature, it strikes me she would have suspected the serpent of some slick trick when he called her attention to the apple. As a rule, when you go to talking to a bloomer about something of which she knows nothing, or has at least but a slight knowledge of, she sets her ears up and shies off. There is a mighty good man here in town—at least, he says he is a good man, which, of course, gives no room for doubting him—and he started out to keep Lent. He had never kept it before, but he said to his wife: "My dear, I feel that this really is the season when we should deprive ourselves of some of our pleasures, as the Rev. Dr. Softly remarked Sunday. I have made up my mind that one of the joys of my life is the society of you and the children. I look forward every evening to coming home, eating a nice dinner and then spending the rest of the time with you in peace and comfort. But our lodge has many sick brethren, and I am ashamed to say that I have not paid them the attention I ought to have done, so to keep Lent in act as well as in spirit, I am going to devote my evenings to calling upon the sick ones and doing all I can to brighten and help them."

I do not believe this good man's wife is unduly suspicious, but this Lenten gab made her restless. Anyhow, she found a chance to go down to his office the next morning and size up his new typewriter girl, and he hasn't been allowed to call and minister to the sick brethren yet.—Tattler, Louisville Times.

A Good Cough Medicine for Children.

"I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says F. P. Moran, a well-known and popular baker, of Petersburg, Va. "We have given it to our children when troubled with bad coughs, also whooping cough, and it has always given perfect satisfaction. It was recommended to me by a druggist as the best cough medicine for children as it contained no opium or harmful drug." Sold by M. Cravens.

Rufus Wootton and John Everage were shot and killed by Benton Messer, a physician of Knott county. Wootton, Everage and Blaine Combs had ridden by Messer's home and fired into his house, and as they returned a general fight ensued. Rufus Wootton and Blaine Combs were in the Hollifield-Kelly fight, which occurred in Letcher county a short time ago.

A Horrible Outbreak.

"Of large sores on my daughter's head developed into a case of scald head," writes C. D. Isbell of Morgantown, Tenn., but Bucklen's Arnica Salve completely cured her. It's a guaranteed cure for Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers and Itches. Only 25c, at Paul's.

Another Turn of the Screw.

An advance of 2 per cent. on the price of window glass is announced. This added to previous advances makes the price from 50 to 60 per cent. higher than it was a year ago. It is a practical extension of the power of trusts to tax the people upon articles of prime necessity. By the consolidation of the manufacturers the expense of management is decreased and should result in a decrease of prices. But a monopoly is created and the price advanced at pleasure. Another factory for the oppression consists in shutting down at intervals certain of the plants so as to reduce the stock and make that the pretext for the raise in price. This not only mulcts the consumer, but by the enforced idleness of the hands brings distress to many families.

This system of increasing the window glass is on a par with the old English law which taxed each window pane in a house, cutting off to that extent light from the dwellings of the poor and leading to the substitution of fish skins and oiled paper. Its abolishment marked a new era in Great Britain, just as the enthronement of the trusts is evidence of a retrograde from sound political economy in this country.—Courier Journal.

"Who will ride up the avenue with the President in 1905?" is one of the questions asked by writers who do not find enough in the stirring present to give vent to their paragraphic smartness. Perhaps the inauguration four years hence will be so modest and retiring that questions of precedence will be of no moment. There is a strong undertow, without distinction of party, against spectacular celebrations of changes in the Government. The inauguration of a President, as now conducted, is a party event. It was so on two occasions—in 1885 and 1893—when the Democrats of the country thought they had put a member of their party in the Executive Chair. The two inaugurations of Mr. McKinley have been largely in the nature of Republican jubiliations. Those who believe that we have too many elections and too much politics for the good of business, may be willing to dispense with any further formality in the induction of a President than might be involved in the services of a Justice of the Peace or a Notary Public.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Rich, Red Blood.

Morley's Sarsaparilla and Iron not only purifies the blood but makes new, rich red blood. If you have skin eruptions, boils, tuberculosis, rheumatism or scrofula, or if you have a run-down tired-out feeling, try this remedy and note the prompt results. Ask your druggist.

We have not heard of a Democrat who wants to run for the State Senate in this district.

The four Republican Judges of the Court of the Court of Appeals, in an opinion written by Judge Guflly, the three Democrats dissenting, have overruled a long line of decisions by the courts of this and other States. It was in the case of a Henry county man, and holds that in cross-examination of a witness he can not be required to answer any question the answer to which show that he had been guilty of any misdemeanor or accused or convicted of any crime; and that such facts can not be proved by other witnesses. The majority went out of the record to make this ruling, which is said to be for the purpose of giving an easy chance to reverse the case of Jim Howard sentenced to hang for killing Gov. Goebel. Judge Hobson in a dissenting opinion scores the Republican majority for overruling established precedents and bringing the court into contempt by reversing itself.—Stanford Journal.

John Hendrickson, accused of the murder of Calloway Carnes, escaped from jail at Manchester.

John Sebastian, of Morgan county, committed suicide by shooting with a rifle.

James Shannon, of Nicholas county, died from injuries received by being thrown from a horse.

Hopkinsville capitalists have on foot a project to build an electric railroad from that city to Cumberland river.

At Stanford, Robert Wilson, charged with criminal assault on Miss Sallie Crabtree, was given fifteen years in the penitentiary.

The temperance war is on in Flemingsburg. The druggists have been arrested on the charge of not keeping a register of liquor prescriptions.

Mrs. Daniel Muldon, of Covington, gave birth to twin daughters last week, the fourth set of twins that she has been the mother of during a marriage of 12 years.

Young Women

The entry into womanhood is a critical time for a girl. Little menstrual disorders started at that time soon grow into fatal complications. That female troubles are killing graveyards proves this. Wine of Cardui establishes a painless and natural menstrual flow. When once this important function is started right, a healthy life will usually follow. Many women, young and old, owe their lives to Wine of Cardui. There is nothing like it to give women freedom from pain and to fit young women for every duty of life. $1.00 bottles at druggists.

Miss Della M. Strayer, Tully, Kan.: "I have suffered untold pain at menstrual periods for a long time, was nervous, had no appetite, and lost interest in everything, in fact was miserable. I have taken four bottles of Wine of Cardui, with Theodore's Black-Draught, when needed, and to-day I am entirely cured. I cannot express the thanks I feel for what you have done for me."

Ex-Senator Wm. E. Chandler, of New Hampshire, has been taken in care of. He is to be Chairman of the Spanish Claims Commission.

There is no disguising the fact that the political complexion of the next Kentucky Senate is in doubt, though the chances favor the Democrats. Of the 19 hold over Senators, only seven are reliably Democratic, Harrel, elected as a Democrat, having voted with the Republicans at the last session. Nineteen new Senators are to be elected and to make sure of controlling the Senate the Democrats must elect 13 of them. There are six doubtful districts. The Democrats must win one to tie the Republicans and two to have a majority. On the other hand the Republicans must win five of them to tie and all to have a majority. A great deal depends on the result, as the side that has the majority will elect a President, who will be ex-officio the Lieutenant Governor, there being no regular Lieutenant Governor since the death of Gov. Goebel. The nominations so far made by the Democrats have shown wisdom and if the plan to select only the best men is followed, the apparently uncertain situation will be relieved of every element of doubt.—Interior Journal.

Hanna and His Caste.

It is a relief to be assured by Mark Hanna that the talk of President McKinley's ambition to be nominated and elected to a third term is "stuff and nonsense," and that there is absolutely no foundation in fact for the story recently sent out from Washington.

The trouble is, you know, that if Mr. McKinley really cherished such an ambition, and especially if he were encouraged by Hanna, the latter would see to it that the money and influence of the trust world again prevail over the people at the polls. The Pierpont Morgan $1,000,000 Steel Trust, the railway combine on the "community of ownership" basis, all the monopolies, in fact, would do Hanna's will in such an event. Why not? Has he not delivered the American Government into their hands?

But, now that Hanna disclaims any intention of forcing McKinley on the people for a third time, we must wait in patience until the great Syndicate Bosses sit to announce his choice as McKinley's successor in the White House. You may be very sure it will be some man equally pliable, similarly inclined to accept the orders of the trusts as "manifest destiny," fully as indifferent to the welfare of the common people. And it is just certain that the millions of the combines will be at Hanna's disposal for the election of this man.

To this complexion have we come at last in what was once a government of the people, by the people, for the people. A privilege caste is in control. It is the money-caste, the most unworthy of all so-called aristocracies. It has prevailed to overcome the will of the people. It believes that it can continue to thus prevail. During the next four years of McKinleyism nothing will be left undone to strengthen the power of this money-caste. What do the American people propose in their own defense?—St. Louis Republic.

A Cup of Good Coffee

To get a really good cup of coffee you'll have to start back of the actual making; you'll have to look to the roasting and the grinding. In ARBUCKLES' you have a coffee that's scientifically roasted, and delivered to you with all the pores of the berry hermetically sealed. You're sure of a good cup of coffee because all the coffee flavor and aroma are kept intact until you want it. The fame of ARBUCKLES' induced other coffee packers to put out imitations of it. These imitations cost the grocer (and you) a cent a pound less than ARBUCKLES'. But don't be tempted to buy a package of some other coffee when you can get for it is actually less expensive than the cheap kind; goes further—besides being better flavored, more satisfying.

You will find a list of useful articles in each package of Arbuckles' Coffee. A definite part of one of these articles becomes yours when you buy the coffee. The one you select from the list will be sent you on condition that you send to our Notion Department a certain number of signatures cut from the wrapper.
